Introduction

Up goes the curtain! DRAMA '62, an original presentation, produced by the school board, directed by the principal, advised technically by the faculty, and starring a cast of five hundred eighty-one students, is about to begin. Park View High School, located just outside South Hill, Virginia, is the setting for this absorbing drama.

Shakespeare has said that the world is a stage and that each must play a part. Few people think of themselves as actors or actresses, but in reality, life itself is a drama. Great productions are merely excerpts from life which capture the romance, heartbreak, and happiness of daily living.

Similarly, Park View High School is a stage; each teacher, student, and person concerned with its maintenance plays his part in the unrehearsed episodes that develop as a result of the desire to learn and grow in a land of freedom.

The plot of DRAMA '62 depicts the memorable activities which take place at Park View during the school year 1961-1962. As the story unfolds, the mood changes from moments of serious study to interludes of happy festivity. Action, excitement, and suspense combine to present a drama so intriguing and complete that the memories of this school year will remain as fresh and close as the leaves of this book.

Of Drama '62

Drama Is Staged At Park View.

Alma Mater

Park View High School we love dearly,
In our work and play,
And we'll strive to make her better,
More and more each day.

With our teachers and our rules,
And our principal, and school,
We will have a better band,
To make our school more strongly stand.

Park View High School, located three miles south of South Hill, Virginia, was built in 1955. Soon after its opening, it was admitted to the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. It was thoroughly evaluated in March, 1957, and received a certificate of accreditation from the State Department of Education which it has kept ever since.

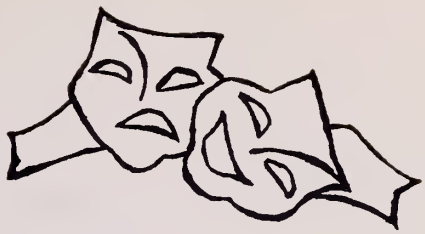

In its five year history, Park View has become a strong force in the community.

Park View High School is the location for the production of DRAMA '62. In its corridors and rooms the actual drama takes place. If the walls could speak, they could tell of the part that Park View has played in the lives of hundreds of high school students. The story of the joys, sorrows, successes, and failures of five hundred eighty-one of these students forms the plot of DRAMA '62.

This drama can best be appreciated by the students at Park View whose roles in this drama will aid them in greater roles in the theater of life.

Drama '62 Is

ABLY DIRECTED

Success, in every production, depends upon the guidance, training, and talent of its director and technical advisers. Only under the direction of these skilled personnel is the cast able to give a top notch performance.

DRAMA '62 is very fortunate in having a most highly trained and capable director, Mr. Charles Henry Morgan. Mr. Morgan, known to most people as the principal of Park View High School, directs and organizes the intriguing activities and events which compose DRAMA '62. He is also responsible for his cast of students which he strives to help in every way.

Thirty faculty members compose the staff of well qualified technical advisors. Their job is to teach the cast of pupils valuable and necessary facts which will form a general storehouse of knowledge necessary for the successful completion of DRAMA '62, and also necessary for any further attempts in other roles of life's production.

School Board Members Head Production

Here are the reliable producers of DRAMA '62, the Mecklenburg County School Board. Decisions and regulations made by the school board deal with the maintenance of public free schools in the county, curriculum opportunities, personnel, and budget.

School board members are appointed for a term of four years by the School Trustee Electoral Board. There is one representative from each school district in the county.

School board meetings are held monthly in Boydton in order to discuss problems which occur during the course of the year's production.

Mr. A. B. Haga, Division Superintendent of Mecklenburg County Schools, received his Bachelor of Education degree from Randolph Macon College and his Master of Education degree from the University of Virginia.

Mr. E. A. Payne, Director of Instruction for Mecklenburg County, received his Bachelor of Education degree from Hampden-Sydney College and his Master of Education degree from Northwestern University.

Mr. C. H. Morgan, Principal of Park View High School and responsible agent of the school board, received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Richmond and his Master of Education degree from Duke University.

Faculty Members Encounter New Problems

Technical advisors for DRAMA '62 consist of the following highly qualified men and women who compose Park View's faculty.

Mr. Leo Allen is the head coach of the Park View Boys' Basketball team, and is also assistant coach in football and track. Mr. Allen teaches Biology, World Geography, and Physical Education. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree from R.P.I. and has undertaken additional study at William and Mary.

Faculty members meet after school each Monday to discuss problems and make plans for coming events.

The Office Is Park View's Control Room

Mr. C. H. Morgan, principal and director of DRAMA '62, prepares to begin a busy day. His duties range from checking electrical equipment to managing school records and reports. His goal is to help members of his cast perform successfully their roles as students.

Below, Mr. B.P. Lumpkin, assistant-principal, tabulates a stack of daily bus reports. He assists Mr. Morgan in the direction of DRAMA '62 as he performs his daily tasks, ranging from issuing passports to supervising students.

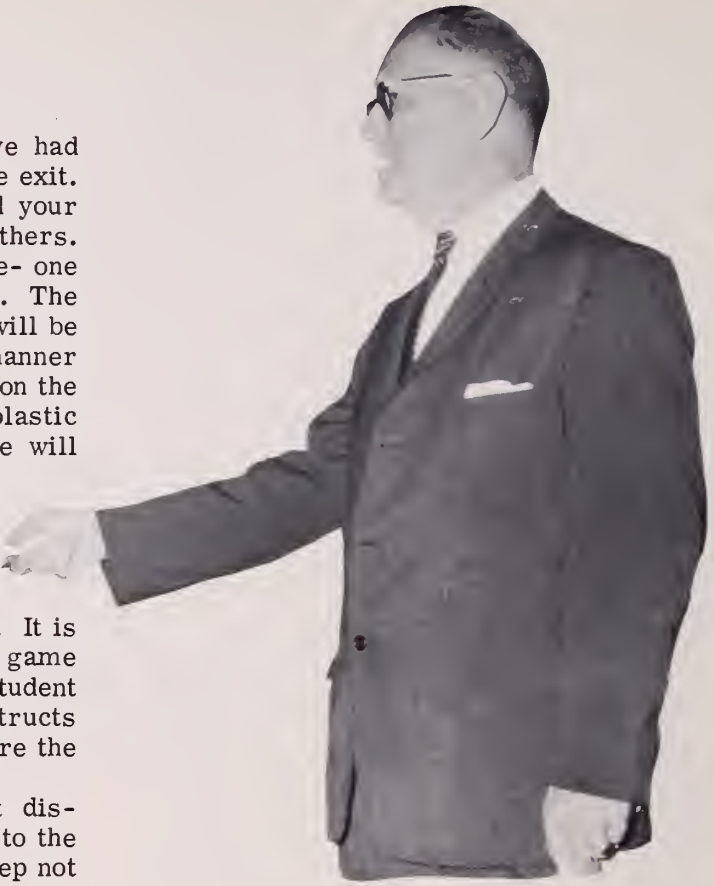

She is everyone from needed friend to understanding mother for each student and faculty member. Everyday she helps the students with their problems and schedule arrangements through her capacity as guidance counselor. Park View could not manage without Miss Marguerite Trimm.

Below is Mrs. Jill Walthall, the busy and efficient secretary at Park View. She is the official bookkeeper, typist, telephone operator, banker, and errand girl. Her cheerful smile and helpfulness make visits to the office a pleasure.

Seniors Receive Stage Directions

Curtain time, seniors! You have had your entrance to the stage, and now the exit. You have played your role and said your lines, so you must leave the stage to others. You will soon appear on another stage- one that is bigger, harder, and tougher. The degree of your success on that stage will be determined, to a great extent, by the manner in which you have played your part on the stage of high school life. Your scholastic record and other achievements alone will not measure your success in life, but your very attitude toward your fellow students and teachers and your reaction toward authority and discipline go into the ingredients from which your character is molded. It is not the score, but how you play the game that counts. Shakespeare, the great student of life, speaking through Hamlet, instructs the actors who are to perform before the king thus:

"Acquire a temperance . . . Let discretion be your tutor. Suit the action to the word, the word to the action. Overstep not modesty of nature. Let discretion be your tutor . . . Go, make you ready!"

Charles H. Morgan

At the last assembly, seniors rise and face the student body for the final time. As they prepare to leave the high school stage, they are faced with the larger challenge that graduation brings. FRONT ROW: Bobby Taylor, Billy Taylor, Herbert Lee Mills, Larry Perkinson, David Strickler. 2nd ROW: John O. Cook, Raye Hines, Emmett Williams, Eddie Lewis, Ernest Wray, Charles Jones, Steve Hines. 3rd ROW: Nell Robertson, Nancy Cassada, Jean Bullock, Betsy Taylor, Dian Boddie.

WELL CAST

DRAMA '62, starring the eighty-four graduating seniors, features a cast of five hundred eighty-one students. This cast ranges in talent and experience from veteran actors and actresses with four previous years of experience at Park View to the fresh, new talent enrolled in September.

The eighty-four seniors have played in four other Park View dramas; therefore, they have earned their leading roles through much hard work and training.

DRAMA '62 co-stars the one hundred ten juniors, who are already beginning to make important decisions regarding the development of their careers in the future.

The one hundred thirty-two sophomores, with two years of experience behind them, also have substantial parts in the performance.

The freshmen are just beginning to establish themselves; while the eighth graders, who have the "bit" parts are working hard as they begin their climb up the ladder of accomplishment.

To show their individuality and importance, each student is pictured separately. However, although each class is a separate unit, and each person is an individual, when it comes to loyalty to Park View, it is one for all and all for Park View. At a ballgame or pep rally, the eighth graders, the seniors, the juniors, the sophomores, and the freshmen join in to cheer the green and white to victory, and, side by side, they stand to sing "Park View High School we love dearly . . ."

Seniors Play Leading Roles

The stars of DRAMA '62, the eighty four graduating seniors, take the final curtain call of their high school careers.

The Seniors choose Jimmy Weaver to lead them as class president. Mrs. Cliborne, Mrs. McBride, Mrs. Osbourne, and Mrs. Watson serve as class sponsors.

Seniors find their last year filled with activity and preparations for the future. They plow through the College Board Exams in South Boston and participate in Career Day.

To raise money, the class sponsors numerous money-making projects. Among them are the sale of sweatshirts, jackets, and pins, and the Sadie Hawkin's Dance.

The Class of '62 enjoys presenting their Senior Play, "Lock, Stock, and Lipstick," and they with their dates spend a delightful evening at the "Peppermint Lounge" on the night of the Junior-Senior Prom.

Outstanding seniors represent and serve the entire student body. Carolyn Thompson reigns as Homecoming Queen; Page Taylor is crowned "Miss Yearbook"; and Betsy Page Taylor becomes "Miss Future Teacher". Bobby Crowder presides as S.C.A. president, and Betty Boswell edits THE LEAVES OF MEMORY. Marvin Crutchfield is elected most valuable football player, and is elected to All-district football, baseball, and basketball teams.

The last few weeks are crowded with picnics, last minute tests, and Commencement practices. The top students scholastically speak on behalf of the senior class at the Graduation Exercises. Betty Boswell is Valedictorian and Wayne Wright and Beth Hylton are the Salutatorians.

Graduation brings mixed emotions of accomplishment and sad farewells for seniors as the curtain closes on their happy high school days. They are now ready to face the new challenge of greater roles in the theater of life. Some will go to work immediately; while others will further their education in college.

Senior officers; Jimmy Weaver, president; Carole Holmes, vice-president; Jo Ann Dix, secretary; Frances Walthall, treasurer; Betty Wright, reporter.

Seniors are the honored guests at the Junior-Senior Prom. As they dance the night away, they realize that this heavenly evening will soon live only as a lovely memory.

Seniors enjoy an afternoon of swimming and satisfy their appetites with a picnic supper at Pine Lake to celebrate their approaching graduation. Here, Mr. Morgan, Mrs. Morgan, and Jennifer sample tasty fried chicken.

Post Graduate

BERNICE THOMAS
Bernice is Park View's only post graduate. She takes a commercial course and assists Mrs. Walthall and Miss Trimm in her spare time.

Today's Co-Stars Will Star Tomorrow

The Class of '63, co-starring in DRAMA '62, will long remember their junior year as one filled with activity.

Class elections are held in September and out of this contest Teddy O'Toole emerges as class president. Junior sponsors are Mrs. Marie Tucker, Mrs. Annie McLean, Mrs. Beth Cobb, and Mrs. Mildred Moseley.

During the year, the juniors continue their scholastic work on a higher level and begin earnest, definite plans for the future. College bound students enter the Merit Scholarship Contest, and many juniors take the College Board Examinations for early acceptance decisions.

Juniors participate actively in all sports and in cheerleading. Teddy O'Toole is elected to the All-District basketball team, and Benny Evans is tri-captain of the football team. Junior girls exercise their sports' ability on the Girls' Basketball team. The three starting forwards are juniors.

In February, the juniors receive their long-awaited class rings.

From an approved list of candidates, the junior class elects twelve boys and girls to attend Girls' State at Radford College and Boys' State at V.P.I. The following juniors are elected to spend a week in July learning about their state government and the responsibilities of good citizenship: Patricia Nolen, Joyce Nance, Joyce Ann Duckett, Edna Earle Matthews, Benny Evans, Ben Brown, William Jackson, Teddy O'Toole, Denny Keeling, Tommy Legget, Billy Mountcastle, and Vernon Oakley.

The outstanding class project of the year is the presentation of the annual Junior-Senior Prom in honor of the seniors. On May 12, the two classes dine and dance in a replica of the "Peppermint Lounge" to the music supplied by the Prince George Royal Serenaders. Preparation for this event is led by Patricia Nolen, Decoration Chairman; Lacey Gordon, Refreshment Chairman; Jane Garland, Entertainment Chairman; Joyce Nance, Program Chairman; Janice Van Dyke, Invitation Chairman; and Vernon Oakley Cleanup Chairman.

The following junior officers are leading their class as they draw near to the top rung in their high school ladder: Teddy O'Toole, president; Patricia Nolen, vice-president; Edna Earle Matthews, secretary; William Jackson, treasurer; Benny Evans, reporter.

At last, after endless days of waiting, the coveted PVHS class rings have arrived, and the juniors happily display, admire, and maybe even exchange the precious gems. Herff Jones' Company handles Park View's class ring order each year, offering a wide selection of colors and styles. Here, groups of juniors compare their new possessions. Front groups: Benny Evans, Billy Vaughan, Joyce Nance, Helen Stone, Edna Earle Matthews, Betty Go Nash, Vernon Oakley, Danny Keeling. Back group: Edith Earle Warren, Jane Garland, Carl Gude.

"Please help us with our schedules," Carolyn Newcomb and Betty King ask Mrs. Cliborne and Miss Trimm.

Every day Miss Trimm, guidance counselor, and Mrs. Cliborne, assistant counselor, help students with their problems, schedules, and plans for the future.

Juniors carefully plan, hammer, and paint for weeks to reconstruct "The Peppermint Lounge" as the setting for the biggest social event of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom.

Morning devotionals begin each day at Park View. Teddy O'Toole, S.C.A. vice-president, is responsible for compiling a list of students to handle this responsibility. Today, Lacey Gordon takes her turn in leading the morning meditation.

Sophomores Head The Supporting Cast

Sophomores begin their busy year with the election of their class officers. They elect Barbara Laine to preside as class president. Class sponsors are Mrs. Virginia Boswell, Mr. Mac Wilson, Mrs. Gladys Wells, and Mr. R.C. Hines.

The Class of '64 makes notable contributions to Drama '62 athletically, scholastically, and socially. In the athletic category, girls and boys participate both on varsity and junior varsity teams. Four sophomore boys, Mike Martin, Nelson Wright, Dwight Phaup, and Harry Larch, form an undefeated 880 relay team in track competition. Harry Larch also takes second place in both the 100 yard dash and in the 220 yard dash.

Studies are now more advanced and require more work. Sophomores tackle three unknowns in Algebra, translate "The Golden Fleece" in Latin, and meet Silas Marner and Julius Caesar in English. Students also take aptitude tests to help them formulate plans for the future.

Marvin Piland wins first place in boys' prose reading at the annual Forenzic meet. Linda Moore, Martha Walker, and Marvin Piland, make the outstanding achievement of being judged All-State band members. Janan Montgomery and Vicky Walker, co-head majorettes lead the band on every marching occasion.

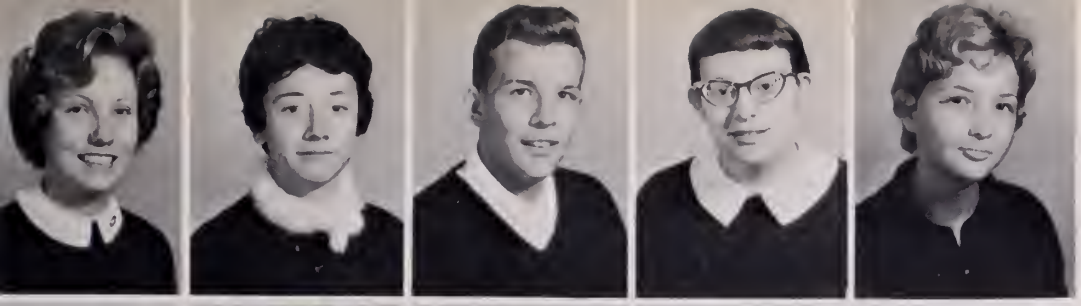

Sophomore Latin students attend the Roman Banquet and present a skit entitled "T.V. Goes to Mt. Olympus."

The social keynote of the year is the annual Sophomore Christmas Party. Decorations of greenery and candles set the stage for the arrival of Santa Claus who generously bestows goodies to all he meets. Barbara Laine and Marvin Piland glide their way to first place in the dance contest which is judged by Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Wells. The night slowly fades away leaving only fond memories behind.

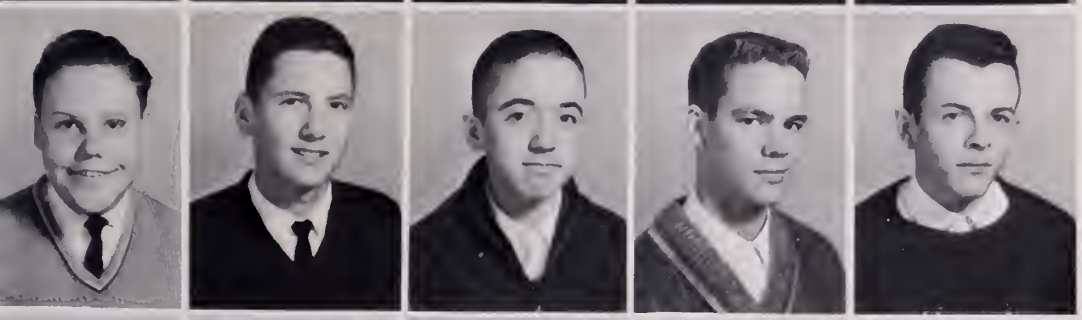

Sophomore officers represent members of their class who have reached the midpoint of their high school days. Barbara Laine, president; Ronnie Moseley, vice-president; Gloria Griggs, secretary; Janice Davis, treasurer; Charles Bugg, reporter.

Cundiff, second place in boys' public speaking; Mrs. Polly Butts, sponsor; Mike Welker; poetry. Not Pictured: Christine Crutchfield, girls' prose reading.

Freshman Continue Preparation For Stardom

In September, 1961, the Class of '65 receives its first formal title of "Freshmen." The election of class officers is the first duty they perform as a class. Representatives from each homeroom remain after school to nominate a slate of officers. The next day the entire class nominates additional candidates and elects their officers by secret ballot. They choose Kirk Hamlet to lead them as class president.

Members of the Freshman Class enjoy the athletic phase of school life as they participate on Junior Varsity and Varsity teams. They gain valuable skills and experience which will enable them to become the first string starters in the future. To quote one of the Freshman athletes, "We may not be stars, but there is no procrastination in our determination.

During the course of the year, the Freshmen are introduced to many new and challenging courses of study. College bound students engage in their preparatory courses which include Latin, Biology, Algebra, English, and other electives. In their English classes, they meet David Copperfield who is a familiar figure in every Freshman English class. All the Freshmen who wish to enter college are advised to take a vocational test.

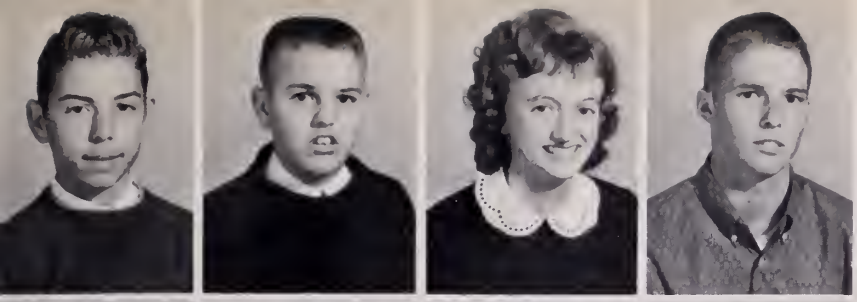

The Freshmen use their previous year of high school experience to enable them to play larger roles in DRAMA '62. They assist the new eighth graders and begin to voice their opinions through the S.C.A. and the various clubs.

The Freshmen observe Saint Patrick's Day with a memorable class party. Green and white streamers and shamrocks transform the cafeteria into an Irish land of magic and little people. To liven up the party, a twist contest is held with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bowers and Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Martin serving as the judges. Carolyn Estes and Jim Bryson are named champion twisters. Freshmen sponsors who guide the class in their activities are Miss Rebekah Crouch, Mrs. Ruth Martin, Mrs. Polly Butts, and Mr. Jimmie Brooks.

Eighth Grade Supplies New Talent

With the opening of school in September, 1961, comes a crowd of smiling new faces. These are the eighth graders- Class of 1966. They, having been welcomed by the older students, proceed to learn all about life in high school as they play their small, but important roles in DRAMA '62. There are many adjustments to be made, such as changing classes and battling a way through the crowded halls. During the first few weeks many references are made to the Park View handbook which contains valuable information on all rules and regulations as well as a handy map of the school.

Spencer Crowder is elected to serve as class president. Meeting all the upper classmen and fellow eighth graders fills many moments of the first year.

As the year wears on, many of the eighth graders take part in the school's activities. Eighth graders participate in Junior Varsity football and basketball while the J.V. Cheerleaders give them lusty support. The class has two lovely Homecoming representatives, Connie Kelly and Linda Reeson.

The highlight of the eighth grade year is a class party. Assisted by the eighth grade sponsors, Miss Greeson, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Bonney, Mrs. Whitten, and Mr. Houk, the entire class works many hours on the various committees carrying out, in detail, the theme, "Valentine's Day." A King of Hearts, Wilson Thompson, and a Queen of Hearts, Brenda Martin, are chosen to reign over the festivities.

As the year comes to a close, an older and wiser crowd of smiling faces eagerly await the coming of another September when they, as upperclassmen, can welcome the incoming eighth grade.

Eighth graders enter Park View for the first time opening new doors of learning and opportunity. Class officers: Spencers Crowder, president; Wilson Thompson, vice-president; Not pictured: Betty Jean Estes, secretary; Hunt Holmes, reporter; Linda Reeson, treasurer.

Brenda Martin, Queen of Hearts, and Wilson Thompson, King of Hearts, have been elected by their classmates to reign over the festivities at the eighth grade's Valentine dance.

After transforming the cafeteria into a lovely land of hearts and flowers, the eighth graders enjoy dancing with their partners as this night to remember passes all too quickly.

Once A Day, Every Day — It's Lunch Time!

It is a well-known fact to the students of Park View that studying makes one very hungry. So, when the 11:50 A.M. bell rings, the mad rush to the cafeteria begins. Lunch is served in three shifts, until 1:10 P.M.

During this time, the appetites of over five hundred students are satisfied by the good food that is served by an ever-smiling cafeteria staff.

Light conversation and happy laughter fill the dining room as the students enjoy their delicious hot lunches. A complete, well-balanced meal with all the necessary vitamins and proteins is served piping hot every day.

Much of the food is supplied by the government which helps to keep the minimum cost down to twenty-five cents per lunch. All in all, the hot-lunch program is one of Park View's greatest assets.

Drama '62 Is

SERIOUS

Learning, studying, and preparing for the future are the dominent themes of DRAMA '62. Although learning is essentially a serious endeavor, the students at Park View accompany this mood of their drama with many emotions. Tenseness and suspense face unwanted tests; bursts of humor find their way into even the dullest discussions; excitement greets new discoveries; curiosity triggers the imagination; and a feeling of pride rewards those who do their best.

The cast of students have rich educational opportunities at their fingertips. Each student must decide which course is right for him according to his abilities, interests, and future plans.

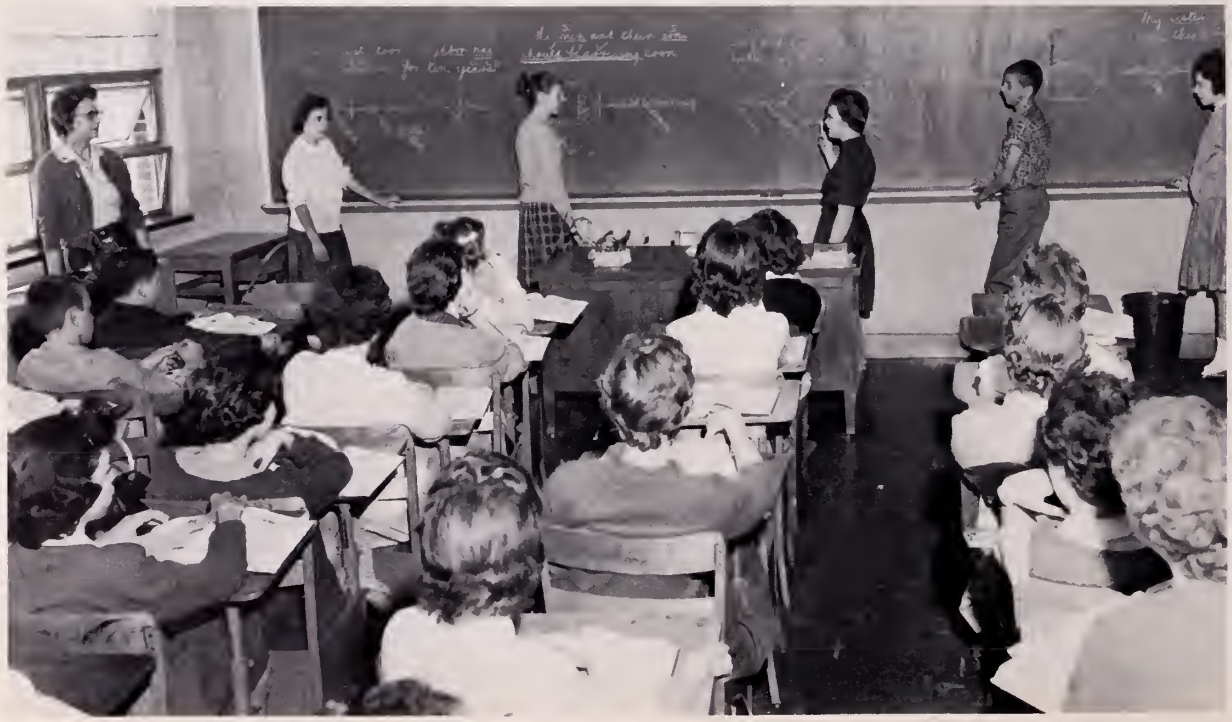

Seven courses of study are offered at Park View. These are the collegiate scientific, collegiate liberal arts, commercial stenographic, commercial clerical, and general with the major emphasis on agriculture, home economics, or industrial arts.

English Is Essential In Every Student's

As Mrs. Butts reads a chapter from DAVID COPPERFIELD to her ninth grade English class, she sees another group of students cringe as they sense the sting of the horrible Mr. Creakle's cane and hate the cruelty of Mr. Murdstone. In connection with their study of David Copperfield, the students prepare an attractive bulletin board illustrating their favorite scenes.

Mrs. Moseley watches as Brenda Martin, Dora Walker, Kathryn Jones, C.W. Gee, and Judy Thomas explain their diagrams to the class. This structural illustration of word relationships is used to aid the students when they study the parts of speech in grammar.

Search For Self Expression And Communication.

Mrs. Sarah McBride teaches sections of junior and senior English. She prepares the college bound seniors for their roles in higher learning by exposing them to the hard work and discipline required to meet the challenge of a college curriculum. In studying the development of English literature from "Beowulf" to "Gunga Din," the seniors learn of their priceless heritage. After studying word usage and sentence structure, they learn to express themselves through writing poetry, paragraphs, short stories, and research themes. Mondays are spent in the library reading books to be reported on in class. Reports are designated to be oral, written, illustrated, or dressed. On the day of the dress book reports, famous characters live again and participate in an assembly program to which the parents are invited.

From the book, A Friend of Caesar, by William Davis, Betsy Taylor brings to life the lovely Cornelia.

Blood thirsty Blackbeard from TALES FROM THE HIGH SEAS by A.E. Hogeboom is represented by Buddy Fuller.

Wayne Wright and Tinker Montague portray two skin divers from THE REEFS OF TAPROBANE by Arthur C. Clarke.

Shakespeare's immortal Titania, Queen of the fairies, from MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM is recaptured in the person of Betty Boswell.

Beth Hylton represents the mischievous sprite, Puck, who tricks Titania in MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM.

Foreign Languages Broaden Students' Outlook

Latin students engage in the study of Roman mythology and phases of Roman history as they gain skill in translating. They broaden their vocabularies and increase their understanding of English grammar as a direct result of their Latin course. Busily translating the lesson for the day are, FRONT ROW: Marvin Piland, Betsy Walker, Barbara Laine, Mrs. Boswell, instructor. 2ND ROW: Ronnie Moseley, Threet Gill, Linda Moore, Martha Walker, Mary Cabell Estes. 3RD ROW: Charles Moseley, Vernon Oakley, Dwight Phaup, Vicky Walker, Carol Walker, STANDING; Gloria Griggs, Janan Montgomery.

This year first and second year French are taught in the same classroom. A new language lab which includes a record player, two tape recorders, and ear phones is set up for the French students. Joey Santore is listening to a tape recording of the lesson for the day as his classmates study. FRONT ROW: Jo Ann Copley, Roselyn Nichols, Nancy Lambert. 2ND ROW: Harriet Hubbard, Lacey Gordon, Sarah Newman, Jeanette Reese. 3RD ROW: Gay Clark, Edna Earle Matthews, Janet Hubbard. 4TH ROW; STANDING: Joey Santore, Charles Moseley, Johnny Taylor, Mrs. Cliborne, instructor.

While Social Studies Promote Understanding.

Mr. Allen is pointing out Russia to these World Geography students. FRONT ROW: Betty Crutchfield, Edith Wright, Gilda Crowder, Benny Dalton. 2ND ROW: Joyce Reese, Sylvia Medlin, Linda Crowder, Linda Chandler. 3RD ROW: Barbara Tanner, Teddy Wishnewski, Carolyn Parrott, Wayne Thomas. 4TH ROW: Mae Tolbert, Carol Matthews.

The Social Studies Department consists of subjects that give the students an understanding of their background, way of life, freedom, rights, and duties. The department is composed of the following courses: World History, a study of the heritage of the countries of the world, taught by Mrs. Bonny; United States History, a subject teaching the beginning, growth, and development of our country, taught by Mrs. Annie McLean; World Geography, the science of the description of the earth and its life, taught by Mr. Leo Allen; Government, a course which teaches the organization and functions of local, state, and national government, under the instruction of Mr. B.P. Lumpkin.

The teachers in this department hold the responsible job of the education of the future leaders of our nation.

Mathematics Becomes The Queen Of The

Mathematics has rightly been called "The Queen of the Sciences". Here at Park View, students increase their knowledge through advanced mathematics. The courses in mathematics include general math, algebra, plane geometry, solid geometry, and trigonometry.

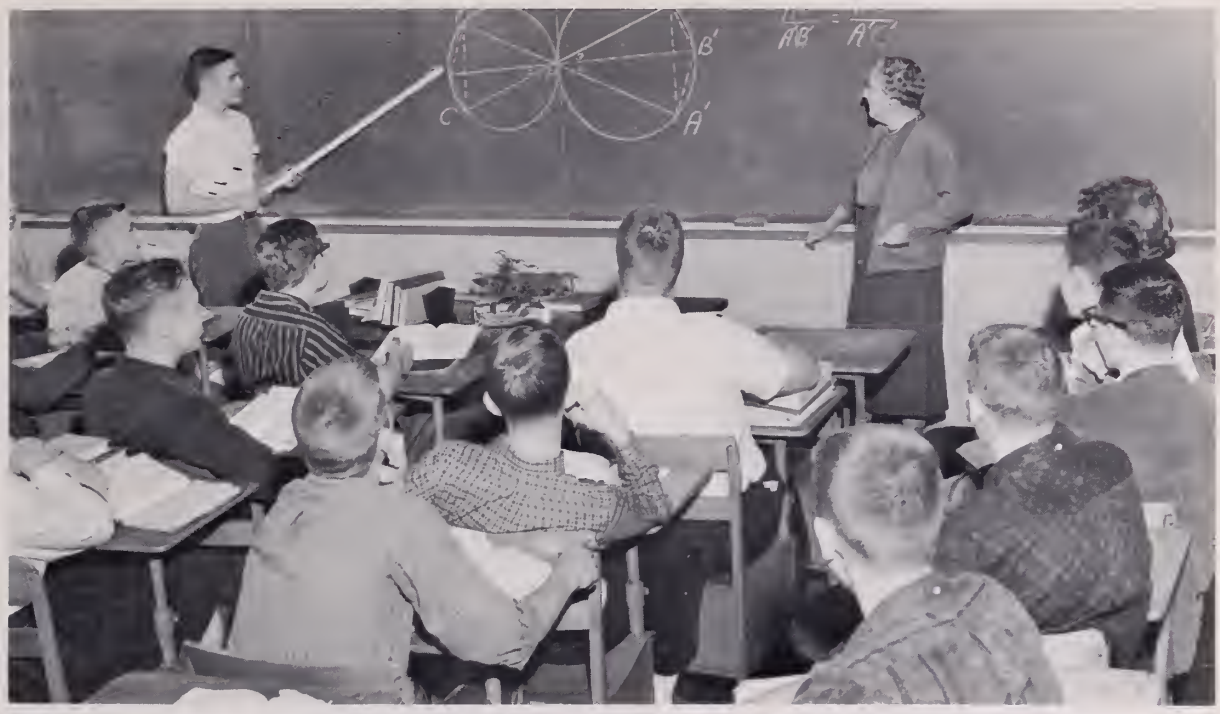

Math 8 and 9 are concerned with the fundamental principles of addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division. These classes are taught by Mr. David Houk. Algebra I and Algebra II teach students to use their previously gained knowledge of mathematics in setting up equations and solving problems with one, two, or more unknowns. Mrs. Louise Osborne teaches Algebra I and II as well as Plane Geometry.

Advanced Algebra is designed for seniors, with two previous years of algebra, who plan to go on to college. Plane Geometry deals with the study of two dimensional objects in a flat plane, and Solid Geometry is the study of three dimensional figures. Trigonometry makes possible the finding of unknown distances and directions by the use of triangles, logarithms, and scale drawings. Mrs. Evelyn Bennett teaches Advanced Algebra, Solid Geometry, and Trigonometry as well as Math 8 and Algebra I.

Sciences, The Language Of Tomorrow.

Mrs. Wells is explaining some of the wonders of the deep as these eighth grade science students observe the first aquarium in the general science room.

FIRST ROW: Mrs. Wells, Judy Kidd, Barbara Orr, Judy Baird, Phillip Upton, Ann King, Pat Moody, Sandra Binford, Alice Dawson, Billy Smiley, Christine Sadler, Sherry Welker, Betty Young.

The Science Department offers courses to students in all grades. The eighth and ninth graders study general science, taught by Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Martin, and Mr. Cobb.

This course covers briefly all the phases of physical and biological sciences. As the pupils study the various units of the book concerning geology, weather, plant-life, etc., they give class reports and carry out many projects such as a series of basic experiments in an introduction to chemistry. Eighth and ninth grade general science courses serve as the foundation in the tower of scientific learning of high school students.

Biology is the most popular course taken by students to fill their quota of science courses for graduation. It is taught by Miss Greeson and Mr. Allen. This is a more advanced study of science in which the students learn about animal and plant life. Another very important phase of biology is the study of the human body. During the year, the students prepare themes, posters, and other projects in relation to their studies. Various means of teaching are employed during the year, such as, lectures, observations of preserved specimens, and dissection. All in all, it is a highly interesting and rewarding course.

Protons + Planets + Pressure = Science

Some chemistry students are doing an experiment to test the properties of alcohols, as other members of the class observe their efforts and offer advice.

Chemistry and physics, the advanced courses in the science curriculum, are taught by Mrs. Wells and Mr. Cobb. These courses are the basis of college science and the majority of the students who take them plan to go on to college.

While studying chemistry, pupils learn many things that are useful in everyday life. For instance, in the unit on petroleum, a section was devoted to anti-knock gasoline. They also learn how to conduct experiments safely and more effectively as they do research to see for themselves many of the wonders of science.

In the physics class, the students perform experiments as they study electricity, gravity, magnetism, light, sound, and other related topics. While studying electricity, the class took a trip to Roanoke Rapids, N.C. to tour the electric-power plant there. The students are greatly benefited as they see first-hand many of the things they have studied.

There is great opportunity presented in the science department, and the students, keenly aware of the everchanging modern world, endeavor to take full advantage of it.

Marvin Crutchfield, Jimmy Weaver, Tinker Montague, Alvin Sirrocco, Maurice Shelton, Bobby Crowder, Tommy Stanley, Billy Taylor, Steve Hines, and Larry Perkinson help Mr. Cobb perform an experiment in the demonstration of Ohm's Law. On the blackboard is a diagram explaining this law and experiment.

Reading Is To The Mind What

Miss Hatch, the busy librarian, is always ready to help anyone who needs her assistance. Here, Gladys Ezell and Jean Gill lend her a helping hand.

In the library, students gather information, study in quiet, or read for their own enjoyment. Many types of resource materials are available to the students. Several sets of modern encyclopedias, readers' guides, almanacs, magazines, reference books on almost every subject, and the card catalog aid the students in their quest for knowledge.

As students read for pleasure, they find all types of magazines, and hundreds of fiction and nonfiction works to delight them. Paper back classics are becoming very popular and are on sale in the library.

Students use the library during their study halls and with their English classes.

Mrs. McBride's sixth period English class is having their regular weekly reading period. Each week, one day is set aside for every English class to use the facilities of the library. This period may be used to do research for themes and special assignments, or for reading books, magazines, or newspapers.

Exercise Is To The Body

"One, Two! One, Two!" count the members of Mr. Wise's fifth period physical education class as they take part in their daily calisthenics. These exercises build muscles, endurance, and coordination needed for active participation in strenuous games.

The Physical Education Department is composed of two divisions, girls' physical education and boys' physical education. These two divisions are under the instruction of Mrs. Estelle Lumpkin, Mr. Harold Wise, and Mr. Leo Allen.

In physical education classes, students play team games such as football, basketball, baseball, softball, and volleyball. Body conditioning exercises, endurance tests, and rhymical activities are also essential in the development of physical fitness. The emphasis in this department is placed not only on skill in playing the games, but also on the habits and attitudes exhibited which will promote the wholesome use of leisure time.

Courses in personal health, driver education, and first aid are taught during the physical education classroom periods each week.

Martha Blair Kimball and Susan Hankley jump for possession of the ball as their teammates stand ready to receive the tap. Basketball is a favorite sport for these girls who are members of Mrs. Lumpkin's fifth period physical education class.

Art And Music Add Color And

Mrs. Watson explains how the glaze is to be removed from the bottom of the ceramics as they are put into the kiln. Garland Locks, Carol Land, John Burdge, Cynthia Weaver, Robert Blue, Jerry Duffey, Rose Blanton, Vernon Newman, Tommy Reekes, Barbara Hite, Magalene Rockwell, Gertrude Moseley, and Betty Reed listen attentively.

Beginning art students, under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Watson, experiment with many different media. Among them are ceramics, papier mâché, and styrofoam. Students enjoy the new experience of designing to mood music, and, as a class project, they paint several murals which are put on display at the School Fair.

The Advanced Art Class contributes to the beauty of the school by many colorful posters, especially during the athletic seasons. Pupils in this class engage in linoleum block printing, china painting, pen and ink drawings in black and white and color, and pastel drawings. Emphasis is placed on art appreciation as Mrs. Watson exposes her students to the works and lives of great painters.

Students of the Advanced Art Class are preparing posters for National Library Week while Mrs. Watson explains the different techniques of using cut paper. FRONT TABLE: Ronald Brummitt, Betsy Taylor, Dot Duffey, Joyce Tudor. SECOND TABLE: Tommy Dunn, James Braddy, Paula Allgood, Ellen Evans, Mary Bonney.

Harmony To Our Year's Production.

Sixteen eighth grade girls who are quite interested in music compose the Girls' Glee Club. These girls meet every day in their vocal music class to study music from the various periods in history and some of the works of world famous composers. They perform for various school functions and take part in the spring concert. "I Enjoy Being a Girl" and the "Little Drummer Boy" are two of their most popular numbers.

Students in the fourth period study hall, who wish to do so, participate in the Choral Club. They meet twice a week on Tuesdays and Thursdays during their study hall period. They gain experience in working on some of the difficult works written for choirs. In the concert they join with the Mixed Chorus to sing such favorites as "Bali Ha'i" and "Climb every Mountain."

In The Commercial Department, Business

In the commercial department, a group of efficient instructors prepare students for their future roles in the business world. Mrs. Marie Tucker teaches typing and transcription; Mrs. Beth Cobb instructs typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping; and Mr. Mac Wilson teaches office practice, business math, and general business.

In a typical business course, a student learns how to work math problems, keep books, take dictation at approximately eighty to one hundred words a minute, transcribe this dictation, and set up a business letter on the typewriter. Students are taught how to apply for a job, how to dress for the interview, how to act in a business office, correct public relations, and the use of the typewriter.

This course prepares the pupils for advanced college courses, or it readies them to begin their own jobs right after high school.

In shorthand, the students learn symbols for every letter and many words in the English language. In transcription, they learn to improve their dictation speed and transcribe their notes into typewritten letters ready for mailing. Office practice gives the student a preview of the problems he will meet in a real office and experience so that he will be equipped to solve them.

Facts and figures gained in the business department will aid the students in their personal business transactions no matter what type of career they might pursue.

Courses Buzz With Activity And Efficiency.

In Home Economics And Shop, Students

Many girls at Park View prepare for their future roles as homemakers by participating in the home economics program. Under the competent instruction of Mrs. Ruth Martin and Mrs. Frances Whitten, girls learn the arts of homemaking.

A careful study of nutrition and experimentation with rats accompany the study and practice of food preparation. Later, the girls study good grooming and care of clothing as well as learning how to sew.

Childcare and development, consumer education, and home nursing are other essential topics covered by future homemakers.

As they study in the well equipped department, the girls prepare attractive bulletin boards to illustrate their activities, and they frequently make use of their library of reference material.

Glenda Kidd, Betty Boswell, Gertie Reese, Sarah Newman, and Gloria Bullock feed the rats which are being used in an experiment to illustrate the effects of good and bad nutrition.

As a class project, this senior home economics class redecorates the bed room. They are now making last minute adjustments to the new bedspread and the new curtains. The decorators are as follows: KNEELING: Magalene Rockwell, Loretta Paynter. STANDING: Nancy Cassada, Ann Murphy, June Rose Overton, Rose Blanton, Ruby Adcock, Betty Panther, Ann Edmonds, Barbara Hite. SEATED: Beverly Tunstall.

Master Useful Skills.

Using a drawing board, French curves, T-squares, compasses, scales, and triangles, mechanical drawing students draw various views of objects to scale and study measurements and lettering. Working on their drawings are, 1ST ROW: Tommy Leggett, William Jackson, Leon Binford, Wayne Beck. 2ND ROW: John O. Cook, Benny Evans, Mr. Hines, teacher; Bill Bowers, Joe Whittemore.

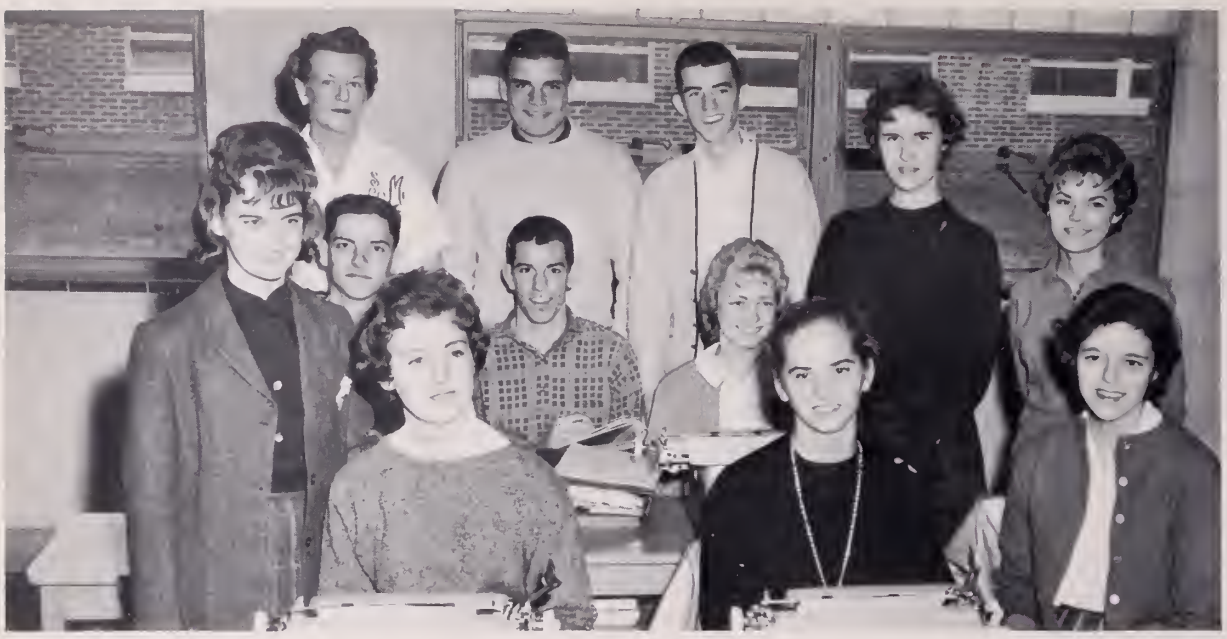

Mr. Elliott explains a pesticide chart to Terry Larch, James Kidd, Charles Mooney, and Blair Kinker. In the Agriculture classes, boys study types of soils, crops, fertilizers, and farm machinery. Each boy raises his own crops at home and keeps a careful record which is discussed in class.

Boys taking Industrial Arts learn how to manipulate saws, hammers, and nails as they make many beautiful as well as useful articles. In their classroom study they learn types of measurements, kinds of wood, and many other valuable facts which form the ground work for good carpentry. Members of Mr. Brook's class: Bunny Paulette, Malcolm Leonard, Bobby Taylor, G.R. Creedle, Mr. Brooks, instructor; David Mills, Willie Cole, Billy Hite, Johnny Hankley, Edward Ellis, Jimmy Curtis, Jerry Duffey, Lyle Lacey, Jimmy Butts, Randy Crocker, Harry Larch.

Journalism Pupils Observe And Report

Park View High School news is gathered and written each week in journalism class under the supervision of Mrs. Sara McBride, instructor. It is published in the "South Hill Enterprise", a weekly publication.

In addition to the news, creative writing selections, prepared in class, are published under the heading, "Creative Writing Corner."

Students are also assigned work sheets from the journalism testbook to be completed at home.

Journalism classes tour the town printing office each year, where they see the steps taken in the publication of the local paper.

Betsy Taylor and Page Taylor, members of the journalism class, are writing an article on the display in the front hall show case.

This F.H.A. display is only one of the many interesting exhibits that becomes "news" because of the observant journalism students.

The School Fair Exhibits Achievements

Dolls dressed as characters from Julius Caesar, maps of the Roman Empire, projects picturing the Latin symbol, reports, and word trees represent the Latin classes.

In the art room, drawings, dolls of plaster of paris, clay figures, soap carvings, paintings, murals, and mobiles display artistic talents.

Each spring an inventory of the work accomplished during the school year is made. This appraisal is met through the presentation of the school fair.

Mrs. Louise Osborne, as chairman of the fair, leads the preparation for the event. Students and teachers set up the display in one afternoon representing each student and department in school. Parents assemble in the evening to attend the regular meeting of the Parents', Teachers' Association after which they view the fair exhibits.

They begin their tour in the gymnatorium which serves as headquarters for the array. The study of foreign languages, English, Science, business, and social studies is represented by illustrated book reports, themes, business letters, models, maps, scrapbooks, and experiment set ups.

Next they visit the art department and the industrial arts classes where they see objects through which the students have displayed their creative abilities. Parents conclude their rounds in the home economics department where they enjoy delicious refreshments and see displays ranging from tasty baked goods to pretty articles of clothing.

Electricity is a popular topic for study in physics. Here Tommy Stanley is conducting an experiment in which he is changing amperes to volts.

Posters, graphs, curve stitchings, and geometric borders illustrate some of the many projects which math students undertake.

9 . . 10 . . 11 . . 12 . . 1 . . 2 . . 3 . . School's Out!

Mr. B.L. Lumpkin checks a stack of daily bus reports.

Mr. Sterling Tanner, School Custodian, helps look after the busses in addition to his many other tasks.

Mecklenburg County's Public School busses transport Park View students to and from school every day. The school bus system is headed by R.A. Bynum, Supervisor of Pupil Transportation for Mecklenburg County. Mr. B.P. Lumpkin, assistant principal, is in charge of the operation of the busses at Park View.

Student bus drivers must be sixteen years old and must pass a driving examination in Boydton to obtain their chauffeurs license. Each driver turns in a daily bus report showing his total mileage, number of passengers, and traveling time. Park View's reliable staff of bus drivers and the busses they drive include the following: Eddie Lewis-83, Clyde Thompson-3, Ernest Wray-76, Clyde Spraggins-21, Allen Tudor-5, Bobby Taylor-75, Vernon Newman-18, David Strickler-14, Maurice Shelton-66, Roger Upton-58, Charles Jones-27, Jacky Robinson-20, Bill Bowers-72, G.R. Creedle-88.

Three o'clock finally arrives marking the close of a busy day. Students swarm out of the classrooms and make their way to the busses to begin their journey home.

Drama '62 Is

WELL ORGANIZED

A variety of clubs which are out growths and products of classroom activity enable DRAMA '62 to be an organized production. Each club must meet the standard requirement of serving a specific worthwhile purpose and must have a planned program for each meeting.

A student may belong to two clubs other than the S.C.A. and the Beta Club. All students are members of the S.C.A., the Student Cooperative Association, while the Beta Club is composed of honor students and the Monogram Club contains students who possess outstanding athletic ability.

The Latin Clubs, the Art Club, and the Choral Club further the interests created on their respective classes.

The Future Teachers of America, The Future Homemakers of America, and the Future Farmers of America are clubs that strive to prepare their members for their roles in later life. The 4-H members prepare for the future, too, by stressing the proper development of their heads, hearts, hands, and health.

Members of the Reviewer's Staff and the Annual Staff record the daily activities of classes, clubs, and students for future reference and enjoyment.

Students Voice Their Opinions Through The S.C.A.

Every student at Park View is a member of the Student Cooperative Association; while the S.C.A. Council is composed of elected representatives from each class plus the S. C. A. officers. These representatives of the student body help to promote good relationships between the students and the faculty. They encourage participation in all school functions, work to keep Park View clean and neat, and strive to develop good sportsmanship and school spirit in all school activities.

S.C.A. members attend and participate in various S.C.A. meetings on the district and state level. A large delegation represented the Park View S.C.A. at the annual district meeting in Kenbridge during which Mr. Mac Wilson, the sponsor, led a discussion group. Mary Cabell Estes and Teddy O'Toole received many new ideas at the State S.C.A. Convention at Radford College.

S.C.A. projects include the operation of a school store, the organization of a monitor system, the responsibility for morning devotionals, the observance of teachers' day, and the sale of personalized chocolate candy.

The Beta Club is an organization composed of honor students, who must maintain at least a B average on all subjects including citizenship. Its purposes are to encourage mental and character development by promoting honesty, service, cooperation, responsibility, industriousness, humility, and to reward creditable achievement.

First year Latin students belong to the Junior Latin Club. The purpose of the club is to introduce the pupils to Roman civilization and to its many contributions.

Films are shown on the customs, home life, and schooling of the Roman people. Talks made by different students on Roman mythology also add to the interest of the programs.

The Junior Latin Club members have joined with the Senior Latin Club in adopting the motto - LATIN ALWAYS.

Second year Latin students, who make up the Senior Latin Club, have played an active part in DRAMA '62.

To increase the students knowledge and to help them make use of what they have learned in class is the twofold purpose of the club.

Senior Latin Club programs are planned to be entertaining, as well as instructive. Contests on Roman gods and goddesses are found to be fun and very helpful.

This year the club has adopted a seal with the motto--LATINA SEMPER which means LATIN ALWAYS.

All students who have earned school letters by participating in football, basketball, baseball, and cheerleading are eligible to become members of the Monogram Club. Each year the club sponsors Homecoming and the special dance that follows.

The Monogram Club honors students who have outstanding athletic ability through the presentation of letters. Junior and senior boys lettering in football receive jackets in addition to their letters; while the senior cheerleaders and the senior members of the girls' basketball team receive golden replicas of megaphones or basketballs to be worn on chains.

To raise money, the Monogram Club operates the concession stand at all home athletic contests. The highlight of the year is a spring picnic which completes the club's activities.

Leaders of the Monogram Club are Marvin Crutchfield, president; Sadie Smiley, vice-president; Carole Holmes, secretary-treasurer; Emmett Williams, reporter.

Future Teachers Hold The Key To Tomorrow.

Park View future teachers, aided by their sponsors, Mrs. Polly Butts and Miss Marguerite Trimm, form a very active organization which works to promote the teaching profession. Club projects include observing classes, conducting morning devotions, preparing and selling refreshments for the variety show, and selling candy. A scholarship fund is awarded to the senior girl elected "Miss Future Teacher." Patricia Nolen, Lacy Gordon, Page Taylor, Mrs. Butts, and Miss Trimm represented the Park View F.T.A. at the annual F.T.A. convention in Richmond.

Music Makers Sing Along

"With a voice of singing, declare ye this and let it be heard." - Martin Shaw. Music is a vital part of one's life. It is a dynamic communication between people; a mode of self-expression. Each day the Mixed Chorus composed of the choral music class meets for these purposes, as well as to learn the basic background of why they must interpret their music as they do. Strains of Roger and Hammerstein's tunes, The Hallelujah Chorus, and many jolly melodies fill the air with song as they learn.

Art Transforms The Ordinary.

Art Club members provide colorful, artistic scenery which publicizes and enhances important events that occur in DRAMA '62.

Regular programs have included a visit by Mrs. C.H. Morgan, a local art enthusiast, and a sketching session during which members worked on posters for the Keep Virginia Green Poster Contest. Two club members, Paula Allgood and Joyce Tudor, in competition with four thousand eighty-seven other students, won honorable mentions of five dollars each. Members of the club also enjoyed their annual trip to the Artmobile where they saw a display entitled "Art Before Columbus."

Future Homemakers Prepare To Meet The

"Future Homemakers of America face the future with warm courage and high hopes . . ." Future Homemakers strive to establish these standards contained in their creed which is a goal for all F.H.A. members.

The organization of the Future Homemakers of America is composed of chartered state associations.

Park View's F.H.A. chapter is an active member of the Twin County Federation. During the summer, some members of the club attend F.H.A. camp along with girls from all over the state, and F.H.A. girls attend the state convention in Roanoke each year. Girls display food and clothing at the Mecklenburg County Fair as well as at the annual school fair. The F.H.A. display on the value of a good diet won first place at the county fair.

Through resourceful persons in the community, many informative, as well as interesting, chapter programs have been presented. Miss Carol Ripley, Home Economist for Virginia Electric and Power Company, presented a delicious program on outdoor cookery. Miss Mae Lee, a buyer for a local department store, gave club members helpful hints about buying clothing and predicted the fashion trends for the summer. A panel discussion on the advantages and disadvantages of mothers working outside the home was presented by F.H.A. girls. At another meeting, F.H.A. pins were given to new members and certificates were presented to girls who were in the club for their second, third, fourth, or fifth year.

Furniture polish was sold to help finance the Christmas party and the spring picnic.

For The "Storehouse Of Knowledge."

Through the years, the Library Club has been one of the most active clubs at Park View. A meeting, which includes business and a program, is held each month. Members help with the routine work of the library and try to stimulate interest in reading among the students. Members become better acquainted with the services of the library, and through the practical work performed, are able to render a worth while service to their school.

Students in the ninth through the twelfth grades may apply for membership by stating their reasons for desiring to join the club in a written application. After evaluating the applications, the librarian then selects the members.

Junior Library Club officers: Jimmy Whittemore, president; Nell Warren, vice-president; Kirk Hamlet, secretary; Joyce Reese, treasurer.

To remain in the club, a student must earn a required number of points by performing services such as working at the desk, writing overdue slips, shelving books, keeping the room in order, and promoting the observance of National Library Week.

The club raises money for the library by helping with the Magazine Subscription Campaign and selling Park View pennants. The members also help with the Book Fair and the Book Tea for parents and friends.

Reporters On The Reviewers' Staff Reflect

Betty Wright, editor of the "Park View Review" has many important jobs to do. She assembles prospective topics, assigns articles, writes the editorial, and sets the deadline for staff assignments.

Mrs. Sarah McBride and Mrs. Marie Tucker are the sponsors of the Reviewers' Staff. Mrs. McBride proofreads all articles, and Mrs. Tucker sees that the staff completes their assignments on time.

To become a member of the Reviewers' Staff, a student must write an original essay telling why he would like to work on the school paper. Selections of staff members are made by the sponsors, Mrs. McBride and Mrs. Tucker, with the approval of the faculty.

The "Park View Review" is published during the second week of each month. Approximately three hundred copies of each edition are printed. Regular features include creative writing, sports coverage, personality sketches of outstanding students, current song hits, an article written by an anonymous "Rambler" covering the highlights of one special day at Park View, and the editorial.

Patricia Nolen, assistant editor, and Betty Wright, editor, are checking the feature article which is an essential part of the paper.

"Running the paper off" is a most important job. Here, the production editors Tommy Stanley, Jimmy Whittemore, and Emmett Williams prepare the stencil machine for the paper.

Daily News In The "Park View Review"

The paper is going to press. The typists, Joyce Tudor and Helen Stone, type articles while Joyce Martin and Patricia Matthews complete their stories. Jimmy Whittemore and Tommy Stanley prepare the stencil machine.

Many jobs have to be done before the "Park View Review" can be sold to the students. Mary Scott Johnson, Gladys Ezell, Frances Walthall, and Betsy Taylor are preparing the many types of art work.

Annual staff members are chosen by the faculty on the basis of dependability, industriousness, and scholarship.

Staff members reap the rewards of their long hours of hard work each time they open the covers of their LEAVES OF MEMORY, finding their memories that will never grow dim because they captured a dramatic school year between two covers.

To the many other students and faculty members whose cooperation was necessary for this volume of the LEAVES OF MEMORY, the annual staff expresses a hearty THANK YOU.

At the left is Betty Boswell editor of the '62 LEAVES OF MEMORY and creator of DRAMA '62. She allocates and lays out pages, labels pictures, writes copy, and makes staff assignments.

Ready to distribute the new yearbooks are Jane Garland, assistant business manager; Beth Hylton, business manager; Patricia Nolen, assistant business manager; and Mr. Mac Wilson, business advisor.

To finance the annual, the business staff sells subscriptions, ads, school pins, refreshments, and sponsors an annual dance. Beth Hylton as business manager is also responsible for laying out the ad section.

Betty Lou won first place at the district contest in Farmville. She also belongs to the 4-H Honor Club.

Park View Band Wins "Excellent"

Miss Rebekah Crouch directs the Park View High School Band as it accompanies DRAMA '62 as a marching unit and as a concert band. Using a new marching technique, precision drill, the marching Dragons perform during halftime at all home football games and supply peppy march music from the stands as they enthusiastically support the excitement. Five parades, highlighted by the Christmas parade at Danville, helped to round out an action packed marching season.

Numerous performances for school functions and a spring concert in May which climaxes the concert season complete a busy year for the band.

In addition to its local activities band members participate in various festivals, workshops, and clinics during the year. At the music festival in Colonial Heights, the band received a rating of excellent. The award for this achievement was presented at the annual band banquet. Band members who participated in band workshops, the festival, and all-state band also received awards and certificates.

Ben Brown, drum major, leads the band during marching season. With his baton and whistle, he guides each person to his proper place as the marching begins. Dian Boddie, as president of the band, represents the band on all important occasions and helps Miss Crouch carry out her plans for the band's activities. Janan Montgomery and Vicky Walker, co-head majorettes, plan the twirling routines for the majorette corp to perform in parades and at football games.

A good majorette corp is an added attraction for any band and the Park View Band boasts a twirling team of twelve girls who precede the band in every marching program. With winning smiles, they strut their way in to every heart. Park View's majorette corp consists of the following girls: FRONT ROW: Janan Montgomery, Vicky Walker. 2ND ROW: Linda Montgomery, Pam Yale, Juanita Powers, Katherine Moore, Martha Ann Jordan. 3RD ROW: Michael Legg, Brenda Wells, Sherry Welker, Martha Blair Kimball, Sara Nell McBride.

Future Farmers Cultivate America's Resources.

As the name implies, the F.F.A. is an organization for Future Farmers of America. Boys in F.F.A. are enrolled in vocational agriculture classes. In addition to shop and classroom exercises, these boys take part in contests sponsored by the F.F.A. association. Forestry judging, degree team contests, public speaking contests, and livestock and crop judging are some of these activities. This year the Park View representative, J.S. Cundiff, reached the state level in public speaking competition.

F.F.A. officers: Clarence Crowe, vice-president; Mr. J.N. Brooks, advisor; G.R. Creedle, treasurer; Bobby Taylor, reporter; J.S. Cundiff, president; Mr. W.H. Elliott, advisor; Earl Cliborne, sentinel.

Local projects are also included in an F.F.A.'s program of work. A fair exhibit on fall-out shelters won first prize. Members build picnic tables and sell tractor seats to raise money to buy new equipment for the chapter meeting room. This year the Honorary Chapter Farmer Degree was conferred on Mr. S.B. Land, a prominent citizen in the community. The spring picnic in May climaxes an active year.

ACTION PACKED

As the Drama of the Athletes begins, the students and patrons of Park View find themselves supporting a team minus practically all first string players. Since there is no returning first string, every player works every minute during practice sessions. Because there is no hero, there is no friction on the teams, - cooperation is the password. The result . . . seasonal success in football, basketball, baseball, and a good job in track competition.

In football, the Dragons pile up six victories against one defeat and two ties. With Marvin Crutchfield and Mike Martin leading the scoring, the Dragons' hit and run offense baffles nearly everyone in the league. Benny Evans, Johnny Taylor, and Wade Crutchfield lead the "giant" line which averages about 165 pounds. Senior Wayne Wright capably handles center position, while Tinker Montague performs remarkably at quarterback until he dislocates his knee.

After losing their first two games in basketball, the Dragons settle down to win second place in the district, only to be defeated in the semi-finals of the tournament by one point.

Tri-captains, Beth Hylton, Carolyn Thompson, and Betsy Taylor lead the Dragonettes to a district record of six wins and four losses. Juniors Joyce Ann Duckett, Jane Garland, and Sara Nell McBride round out the offensive unit.

The "inexperienced" baseball team continues the success streak by piling up a record of eight wins and two losses to end up in second place in the conference.

Although Park View isn't totally successful in track competition, there are many bright spots. Individual specialists, Teddy O'Toole in the high jump and Mike Martin and Harry Larch in the dash events, head the scoring list. The 880 relay team of Martin, Larch, Phaup, and Wright is also a consistent winner. O'Toole and Larch win the right to compete in the State Track Meet.

Wise's Rookies Capture Third Place In

Starting the season as underdogs, the Dragons of Park View prove to District III that size is not everything that is required to make a good football team. The lightweight, but pesty, Dragons finish the best season since 1958 with a 6-2-1 district record. School spirit and dedicated leadership greatly assist the team. The first game with Blackstone ends in a 0-0 tie. However, the Dragons come through to win their second game against Victoria by a 34-0 margin. In the next three district games the Dragons add to their winning column. Park View's fifth triumph over Randolph Henry marks the high point of the season. A last minute pass interception sets up the winning touchdown for the Dragons. Dreams of becoming first place district champions are shattered by the 13-0 loss to Bluestone. However, recovering from this blow, the Dragons launch a final attack and conclude the season with a 27-12 victory over the Greenville Eagles.

Under the experience and dedication of coach Harold Wise and assistant coach Leo Allen, tri-captains, Marvin Crutchfield, Monty Montague, and Benny Evans, lead the Dragons on to victory.

Scoreboard

	We	They
Blackstone	0	0
Victoria	34	0
Amelia	20	12
Crewe	7	6
Buckingham	32	0
Randolph Henry	14	13
Bluestone	0	13
Brunswick	6	6
Greenville	27	12

Action runs thick and fast during the course of Park View's annual Homecoming game. This year the game is played against Amelia. Benny Evans is hit after receiving a pass from quarterback Tinker Montague. Coming up to assist is Marvin Crutchfield.

District III After A Season Of Thrills

Coach Harold Wise gives a bit of timely advice to co-captain Marvin Crutchfield during a time out from the action.

Keeping the players and equipment in top condition is the job of team managers, Danny Keeling, Lyle Lacy, and Tommy Reekes.

At the annual Football Banquet presented by the Park View Monogram Club, Mr. B. P. Lumpkin presents the Most-Valuable Player Award to Marvin Crutchfield. This honor is conferred upon Marvin by the vote of his fellow teammates.

J.V.'s Complete Hard-Fought Season

Park View's Junior Varsity Football team composed of eighth and ninth graders, has a hard fought season during which they gain valuable experience and preparation in spite of their 1-3 record.

After only twelve days of practice, the fresh team opens its season as it sustains a 33-6 loss to Blackstone. Wilson Thompson, a promising P.V. prospect, scores the lone touchdown on a 25 yard pass from Bunny Paulette.

Park View J.V.'s strike early for a touchdown in their next conflict. Charles Hubbard carries the pigskin to the Brunswick 30 on the opening kickoff, and Donald Bell scores a few plays later with Wilson Thompson making the conversion. However, the Bulldogs outlast the Dragons as they come back in the second half to score 2 T D's to win.

Bluestone's passing ability sets up the touchdowns which serve to defeat the P.V. junior varsity, which can't seem to get its offense rolling, by a score of 14-0.

Donald Bell, leading ground gainer, and Charles Hubbard score 7 points each to down Crewe 14-12. Hubbard makes two key pass interceptions which insure victory. The performances in this concluding game of the season promise a good season next year.

J.V. Girls Gain Experience

J.V. Girls' Basketball Team: Carolyn Estes, Sara Jane Leggett, Martha Walker, Linda Walker, Foy Edmond, Betty Young, Linda Nichols, Mrs. Estelle Lumpkin, Coach; Linda Turner, Jo Ann Cage, Joyce Strange, Carol Matthews, Ann Thomas, Gill, Garland Locks, Verna Atkins.

In their first game, the J.V. girls are upset by Kenbridge 30-15. However, from this first game, in which Ann Thomas Gill is high scorer with 10 points, the team gains the experience necessary to be victorious in their other two games. After the Victoria game, the scoreboard reads Park View-47, Victoria-28. Garland Locks scores highest with 13 points. Close behind her are Courtney Adams scoring 12 points and Betty Jean Hamlin scoring 10 points.

With their 29-21 victory over Kenbridge, the J.V. girls wrap up the season. In the final game, Betty Jean Hamlin swishes the net for a total of 16 points.

Carole Holmes and Betty Wright, co-captains of the squad, pose with their sponsor, Mrs. Estelle Lumpkin. The co-captains hold cheering practice and lead the group on every cheering occasion.

"Go! Fight! Win!!" yell the cheerleaders as they cheer the Dragons on to victory and promote school spirit.

The varsity cheering squad is composed of three sophomores, three juniors, and four seniors who are chosen in the spring of the year preceding the cheering season. They cheer as one group of ten for every football game, but they split into two groups of five each, taking turns to cheer at the basketball games.

Besides cheering during football and basketball season, the cheerleaders lead pep rallies, appear in the harvest festival parade, and attend the football banquet.

Cheerleaders wear green and white pleated skirts and white sweaters, which boast a P.V. letter on the front, during football season. They sport new green vests to match their skirts for basketball season. Lucky girls on the cheering squad transmit their exuberance to the crowd and the rafters roar with the refrain, "We're with you team, so Fight!"

Fight!'' Yell The Cheerleaders

"Victory, victory, is our cry, V-I-C-T-O-R-Y" shout Jane Garland, Harriett Hubbard, Carole Holmes, Frances Wathall, and Sadie Smiley. "Victory" has long been a favorite cheer of fans and the players themselves.

"We're from Park View, couldn't be prouder, If you can't hear us we'll yell a little louder, scream Betsy Walker, Janice Roberts, Betty Wright, co-captain; Patricia Nolen, and Carolyn Crowder.

Among the activities of the cheerleaders is the annual ride on a float in the harvest festival parade. Triumphant J.V.'s Compile 9-1 Record

In a strenuous season of thrills and fast moving action, the P.V. junior varsity basketball team wins 9 out of 10 court contests. Coach R. E. Cobb has at his fingertips a large supply of willing, hardworking boys who are eager to do their best through the long hours of practice as well as in every game.

Wade Crutchfield, the "big" man on the team, is the dependable offensive player under the board and the season's high scorer. Dwight Phaup's defensive abilities coupled with his follow up tallies make him a most valuable starter. Ronnie Moseley's accurate outside shooting and Jackie Thomasson's playmaking and driving layups are vital to the action. Woodford Daves is the team's ballhandler who also hits from outside.

During the season Coach Cobb shifts his starters as much as possible giving the boys experience and preparation.

Explosive Scoring, Man-To-Man Defense Make 12-3 Record Best In Park View's History

Larry Perkinson
Co-captain

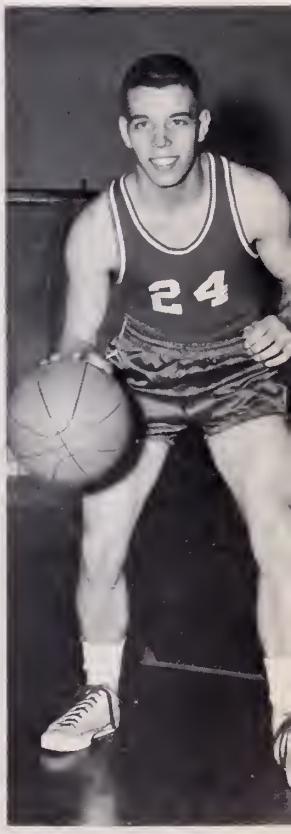

With senior co-captains, Marvin Crutchfield and Larry Perkinson, leading the way, the Dragons take second place in the '62 District III race. A vicious offensive attack plus a tight man-to-man defense prove to be key factors of victory in the most successful basketball season for P.V. in the school's history.

The Dragons' scoring punch comes via one of the most formidable front lines in the district composed of 6'1" Larry Perkinson; 6'1" Teddy O'Toole; and 6'2" Charles Moseley. These three compile a total average of 40 points per game and virtually control the Dragons' rebounding. Park View's "little" men, Marvin Crutchfield and Tommy Leggett, do the ball handling for the team besides averaging 10 points per game between them.

In addition to their "go, go" offense, another important factor of the Dragons' success is versatility. Perkinson plays the pivot for the ball-control team, and scores on short jump shots and rebounds. O'Toole combines hot outside shooting with his driving ability to keep the opponents' defense on their toes. Moseley also works well both inside, outside, and on the rebounds. Crutchfield and Leggett, besides doing most of the play-making, both hit from outside and are adept on defense.

Perkinson and Crutchfield are the only seniors on the team, so it might be said that this is a team of the future. Besides starting juniors, Moseley, O'Toole, and Leggett; Johnny Taylor and Larry Smith, also see some action for the Dragons during the season.

Semi-Final Loss Climax Victory Season

The Dragons second place district finish is one with a sad beginning and a happy ending, packed to the hilt with thrills. After losing their first two games by a total of only 7 points, the Green Wave gets the victory ball rolling with a 41-38 win over arch-rival Bluestone. After this, the Dragons lose only one more game during the season, a 4 point loss to the district champions, the Brunswick Bulldogs which comes despite a 21 point performance by Larry Perkinson. Later in the season, the Dragons defeat the previously unbeaten Bulldogs 66-56 behind the 20 point performance of Teddy O'Toole. Charles Moseley tosses in 16 points in a key win over Blackstone late in the season; and two games later, back court aces, Marvin Crutchfield and Tommy Leggett team up for 21 points in a victory over high-riding Kenbridge.

Behind the play of All-Tournament honor winners Perkinson and O'Toole, the Dragons win their first game over Crewe 33-30. Having thus gained the semi-finals, they take on Kenbridge and lose by one point in the last eight seconds of the game. Thus Park View's most victorious season is terminated, but the Dragons' 13-4 overall record will always live as a symbol of the '62 sports drama.

Dragons' starting five: Teddy O'Toole, Larry Perkinson, co-captain; Charles Moseley. Kneeling: Tommy Leggett, Marvin Crutchfield, co-captain.

All-District honor winners Teddy O'Toole, Larry Perkinson, and Marvin Crutchfield, get a few extra pointers from Coach Leo Allen. The Dragon total of three players on the All-District team is the highest in the league. O'Toole and Perkinson also receive All-Tournament honors.

All-tournament selection Teddy O'Toole pulls down one of sixteen rebounds against Bluestone. Charles Moseley (10) lends a hand as Richard Burnette (21) closes in.

Dragonettes Go! Fight! And Win! To

Dragonettes, KNEELING: Tri-captains, Betsy Taylor, Beth Hylton, Carolyn Thompson. STANDING: Joyce Nance, assistant manager; Joyce Ann Duckett, Janice Roberts, Courtney Adams, Betty Hamlin, Linda Crowder, Betty Jean Puryear, Patricia Nolen, Mrs. Lumpkin, coach; Dian Boddie, Sadie Smiley, Sara Nell McBride, Jane Garland, Betty Copley, Gloria Griggs, Janan Montgomery, Betty Boswell, manager.

Here are tri-captains Beth Hylton, Betsy Taylor, Carolyn Thompson, and their Coach, Mrs. Estelle Lumpkin. Beth, Park View's outstanding girl athlete, leads the talented trio of guards with her hustle and ball handling while Betsy proves herself to be one of the leading rebounders in the district. Carolyn, a converted forward, combines good ball handling and rebounding with her defensive ability.

Another success story! The Girls' Varsity Basketball team of '61-'62 wins 6 district games and loses 4 enroute to their fifth place finish in the district. Overtime games and a final contest which decides the fourth place tournament berth are only a few of the hurdles the Dragonettes encounter on their climb up the ladder.

Led by tri-captains, Carolyn Thompson, Betsy Taylor, and Beth Hylton, and backed up by Sadie Smiley and Dian Boddie, the Dragonettes have probably the top defensive unit in the district. But who will do the scoring? A trio of junior forwards Joyce Ann Duckett, Jane Garland, and Sara Nell McBride, answer that question. Joyce Ann Duckett, who saw only limited varsity action as a sophomore, uses her deadly outside shots and ball handling ability to turn in five 20 point plus performances. Sara Nell McBride, a J.V. veteran, uses her outside shooting and rebounding skill to balance the attack. Jane Garland sets up all the plays and keeps the ball moving besides averaging about 9 points per game.

Baseball Dragons score another second place finish in their fight for number one position. Park View begins the season with a 4-3 loss to Brunswick. The Dragons win their next five games before they again face the Bulldogs. They strike back for revenge in the early innings of the game, scoring three runs, but luck deserts them when the Bulldogs score five runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Dragons chances of being first place winners. The P.V. boys easily defeat their final three opponents to maintain their second place position.

Marvin Crutchfield, a member of the All-District Baseball team, is the rock of the team, while John O. Cook becomes a one man devastation threat. Cook is the Dragons' leading pitcher, hitter, and runs-batted-in man. In two of the games that he pitches, Cook accounts for all the runs, also. In addition, the Dragons get first rate jobs from Robert Lawson, Robert Tanner, Carl Gude, Emmett Williams, and Larry Smith.

Larry King displays his physique as he hurls the discus in competition. Two year district honor winner Teddy O'Toole clears 5'4" enroute to second place district finish in high jump. O'Toole's 5'7" leap earlier had shattered district record.

Sophomore Dwight Phaup hands the baton to Nelson Wright on the second leg of 880 relay in which Park View takes first place. Other members of the relay team are Mike Martin and Harry Larch.

Vernon Oakley wins points for P.V. in both the high and low hurdles. Here he leads pack in low hurdle qualification. High-scoring Harry Larch, second place winner in both dashes, edges Cook of Amelia in 100 yard dash.

Two hundred thirty pounder, Jerry Flowers shows good form in shot put.

Drama '62 Is

GAILY HIGH-LIGHTED

Among the scenes of the year's production are episodes of glamour, gaiety, merriment, and festivity. Members of the cast are given opportunities to develop socially as well as mentally and physically when they play their parts in the interludes of fun and excitement.

Fall festivities are high-lighted by the Homecoming game and dance. Carolyn Thompson reigns as Homecoming Queen, and students welcome many alumni back to Park View.

To boost subscription sales for the LEAVES OF MEMORY and to reward subscribers, a Miss Yearbook Contest is held. Page Taylor emerges from the contest victorious. At the annual staff dance, she is crowned and reigns as "Miss Yearbook 1962."

"Lock, Stock, and Lipstick," the senior play brings down the house with laughter as it adds the essential humor to our plot.

Latin students do as the Romans did when they present a Roman banquet and skit.

Outstanding musical students liven up the accompaniment by winning honors in band and choral work.

Betsy Taylor is crowned "Miss Future Teacher" and is awarded a book scholarship by the F.T.A.

The social activities are topped off by the annual Junior Senior Prom in the spring. Soft lights, dreamy music, and pretty girls in a romantic version of the Peppermint Lounge set the stage for an evening that will never be forgotten.

Homecoming Climaxes Fall Fun

Carolyn Thompson and her attendants are presented to the crowd during the half-time of the Homecoming Game. The members of the court are as follows: Connie Kelly, Sandra Binford, eighth grade; Faye George, Linda Creedle, ninth grade; Linda Moore, tenth grade; Carolyn Thompson, Homecoming Queen; Martha Walker, tenth grade; Joyce Ann Duckett, Jo Ann Copley, eleventh grade; Dot Harris Duffey, Page Taylor, twelfth grade.

At last the big night of Homecoming arrives, bringing with it all the excitement and anticipation that charges the air surrounding a homecoming game, coronation, and dance. To many girls, the thrill of being a member of the Homecoming Court is one of the greatest honors they could receive at Park View. The court consists of two members from each of the five grades, chosen by classmates on the basis of personality and beauty. The queen, a senior, is chosen by the entire student body. This year's Homecoming Queen is the lovely and vivacious Carolyn Thompson. Carolyn and her court add just the right touch of beauty needed to inspire P.V.'s rugged team to victory at the game, and they provide an atmosphere of colorful gaiety for the dance which follows.

Students enjoy an evening of fun and excitement at the dance as they welcome "home" former graduates on this annual occasion.

Latin Club members, dressed as Romans, feast on food truly worthy of the gods at Park View's first Roman banquet planned by Mrs. Virginia Boswell, Latin instructor. Betty Copley and Carolyn Crowder are chairmen of the banquet, and the meal is served by slaves, Tommy Moseley, Bunny Paulette, Johnny Hankley, and Willie Cole.

Following the dinner, the guests are entertained by the skit "T.V. Goes To Mount Olympus." In the first scene, two twentieth century T.V. directors are disgusted with the complaints made by their audiences. An explosion occurs, and a blow on their heads takes them back in time centuries before Augustus Caesar was heard of. They find themselves on Mount Olympus in the presence of the gods and goddesses who have never heard of T.V. The disasterous results of the beauty contest, which they attempt to stage there, brings them back into the twentieth century.

Cupid Strikes Again To The Senior

Mary Lou Brennan, a lively senior, and Charlie Plunkett, the dignified sanitary engineer, better known as the janitor, welcome a new student, Don Donley, to Pembroke High.

Miss Entwhistle goes storming out of the room as Miss Prather asks for a minute of Mr. Warren's valuable time which she fills with complaints about a disagreeable new student in a black leather jacket.

Tryouts are held; the cast is chosen; Miss Rebekah Crouch, director; Miss Barbara Greeson and Mrs. Mildred Moseley, assistant directors, conduct daily practices; and in a few weeks the curtain rises on the senior production "Lock, Stock, and Lipstick."

The play concerns the problems of a guidance counselor in dealing with the youths in high school. Mr. Warren, a counselor firmly opposed to women, finds upon his return to Pembroke that he must share his office with Miss Gardner, a woman guidance counselor. To add to his problem, the janitor, Plunkett, and the maid, Maggs, insist on giving him advice in love. The plot becomes most exciting when $500 is stolen, and all evidence indicates that Larry Donley, one of Miss Gardner's clients is guilty.

Miss Gardner and Miss Entwhistle listen to Mrs. Donley as she demands to know the "nonsense" behind her son Larry's suspension and the accusations regarding the missing money. She declares that her son did not steal the yearbook money.

Plunkett, supervising sanitary engineer, using his white glove technique in checking the efficiency of a new maid, decides to inspect under the desk. Finding it quite dirty, he complains, and Maggs decides to quit and go back to her old job as a cook. However, when Plunkett discovers that she is a good cook, he begins to compliment her work instead of criticizing it, and they begin a romance of their own.

Play, "Lock, Stock, And Lipstick"

A night of make believe and fun ends with a curtain call. The actors are: Glenda Kidd, Betty Wright, Steve Hines, Emmett Williams, Wayne Wright, Dian Boddie, J. S. Cundiff, Janet Hubbard, Page Taylor, Betsy Taylor, and Maxine Crutchfield.

Everyone comes in as the missing money is found. It had accidently been thrown into the trash, but escaped the fire just in the nick of time.

Miss Entwhistle, Mr. Warren, Don Donley, and Miss Gardner discuss the five hundred dollars of yearbook money that is missing from the room.

Miss Gardner, unable to remove her stuck overshoe asks for help from Mr. Warren. Mr. Warren, who is not interested in women, finally consents to help pull the overshoe off even though it is deeply against his established principles.

Never before has a yearbook campaign created so much excitement and enthusiasm at Park View. This year to stimulate sales and to honor a lucky senior girl, the Annual Staff sponsors a "Miss Yearbook" Contest. Nominees selected by the senior class and the annual staff are Janet Hubbard, Carolyn Thompson, Carole Holmes, Barbara Hite, and Page Taylor. Each time a student buys a subscription to the Leaves of Memory, he is entitled to vote for his favorite candidate. Promptness is a key factor in the contest for the earlier a student buys his subscription, the more votes he is entitled to cast. Candidates soon have the hallways plastered with colorful posters urging the students to order their annuals right away and pleading for their votes. After an exciting ten day drive, Page Taylor is announced winner, with Carole Holmes being elected runner-up. The crowning of Page Taylor as "Miss Yearbook 1962" takes place at the Yearbook dance held in the school cafeteria after the basketball game with Brunswick.

Betsy Taylor Is Elected "Miss Future Teacher"

Students interested in the teaching profession are given excellent opportunities to explore the teaching field through the work of the Future Teachers' Club. Senior members visit the South Hill Elementary School to observe teaching methods there, and they then observe classes in their interest group at Park View. After two days of observation, the student teachers take charge of the class, under supervision, for three days.

The high points of the year's activities are electing "Miss Future Teacher" and awarding her a fifty dollar book scholarship. All senior members are nominees and voting is done by secret ballot. At the annual spring picnic, Betsy Taylor is announced winner, and is crowned "Miss Future Teacher."

Three Weeks Of Work Lead To Three

For three weeks, the juniors slave as they transform the Park View gym into a living replica of the "Peppermint Lounge." Their goal- Three hours of pleasure at a never-to-be-forgotten Junior Senior Prom.

On the night of May 12, guests enter the ballroom by first passing under a brightly lighted canopy bearing the title "The Peppermint Lounge."

Immediately to the left upon entering the door, the guests deposit their burdensome articles on a pinkhat check stand and receive their programs for the evening. Here, several arriving students prepare to greet a group of faculty members.

Happy juniors, while admiring the decorations and dancing, find it hard to believe that only a few hours ago, they were on stepladders hanging crepe paper and completing last minute details.

Unforgetable Hours At The "Peppermint Lounge"

Hundreds of red, white, and pink streamers swirl forth from two huge peppermint sticks on each end of the room to form the patio roof. In the corner of the club, adjacent to the fancy pink bar and directly opposite the entrance, the Prince George "Royal Serenaders" strike up dozens of both hearty and dreamy tunes.

Intermission arrives and the couples instinctively find their way to the beautifully decorated dining room. They circle around the colorful head table, heaped with goodies, and return to their places to relax, eat and come back for seconds. Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Ballard, and Mrs. Gordon serve Billy Vaughan, Helen Stone, and Barbara Young.

A long arm jumps up, grabs a handful of crepe paper, and starts a chain reaction. Even the destruction is beautiful as the crepe paper makes random designs on every block of tile. But the most wonderful part is the shining happy faces of the laughing couples. Yes, the prom is a success!

Talented Students Sing, Play, And

Representatives from Park View attend the All-State Band festivities at Huguenot High School in Richmond, Virginia. Park View members of the All-State Concert Band, chosen through stiff competition, are Marvin Piland, Linda Moore, Steve Hines, Martha Walker. Miss Crouch, director, prepares her group for their tryouts and attends the festival with them. Members of the All-State Band Workshop are Dian Boddie, Charles Reese, and Mike Welker.

Miss Crouch finally agrees to "Twist" with Marvin Piland at the annual band banquet. Students find Miss Crouch, their band and chorus director, to be a person demanding their respect and best efforts, yet one who will join in the fun and have a good time.

Leading the long procession of cars and floats in the annual Harvest Festival Parade is the Park View High School Band.

Think Their Way into The Limelight

Interest and enthusiasm, cultivated by wise leadership, blossom into outstanding accomplishments.

In the music department, four Park View band members, Martha Walker, Linda Moore, Marvin Piland, and Steve Hines, competing against five hundred top band students from Virginia, are chosen to be members of All-State Concert Band. Steve Hines is additionally honored by being elected as first chair clarinettist. Dian Boddie, Charles Reese, and Mike Welker are chosen to attend the All-State Band Workshop.

Top performances are given by the entire band and choral groups at the spring concert. Music lovers thrill to a variety of selections from classical works by Mozart to popular pieces by Rodgers and Hammerstein.

After winning in the tryouts at Park View, Billy Taylor, Billy Vaughan, Teddy O'Toole, and William Jackson compete against Halifax High School in the Comet Current Quiz. The Park View team, composed of three juniors and one sophomore, defeats the Halifax challengers, all of which are seniors, 28-26 in a tough battery of questions from newspapers, magazines, and other periodicals which cover current events. The fact that the Halifax team, which appears on the radio show weekly, had only been defeated once before, made Park View's victory quite an achievement.

Miss Crouch expertly directs the band as it plays "Praeludium for Band" by Cacavas, in the spring concert.

The Girls Glee Club sings "One Hand, One Heart" by Bernstein Stickles at the band and chorus concert.

Members of Park View's quiz team, sponsored by Mrs. Polly Butts, bone up on the latest current events. These up-to-date students are Teddy O'Toole, Billy Taylor, Billy Vaughan, Mike Welker, first alternate; and William Jackson.

Students Assemble For The Final Time

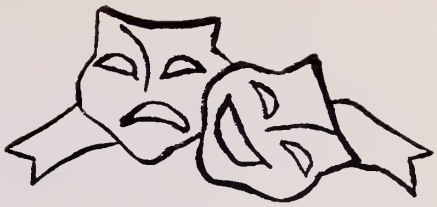

Underclassmen stand as the seniors march into an assembly for the final time. The purpose of this last assembly is to present attendance awards and to recognize outstanding students.

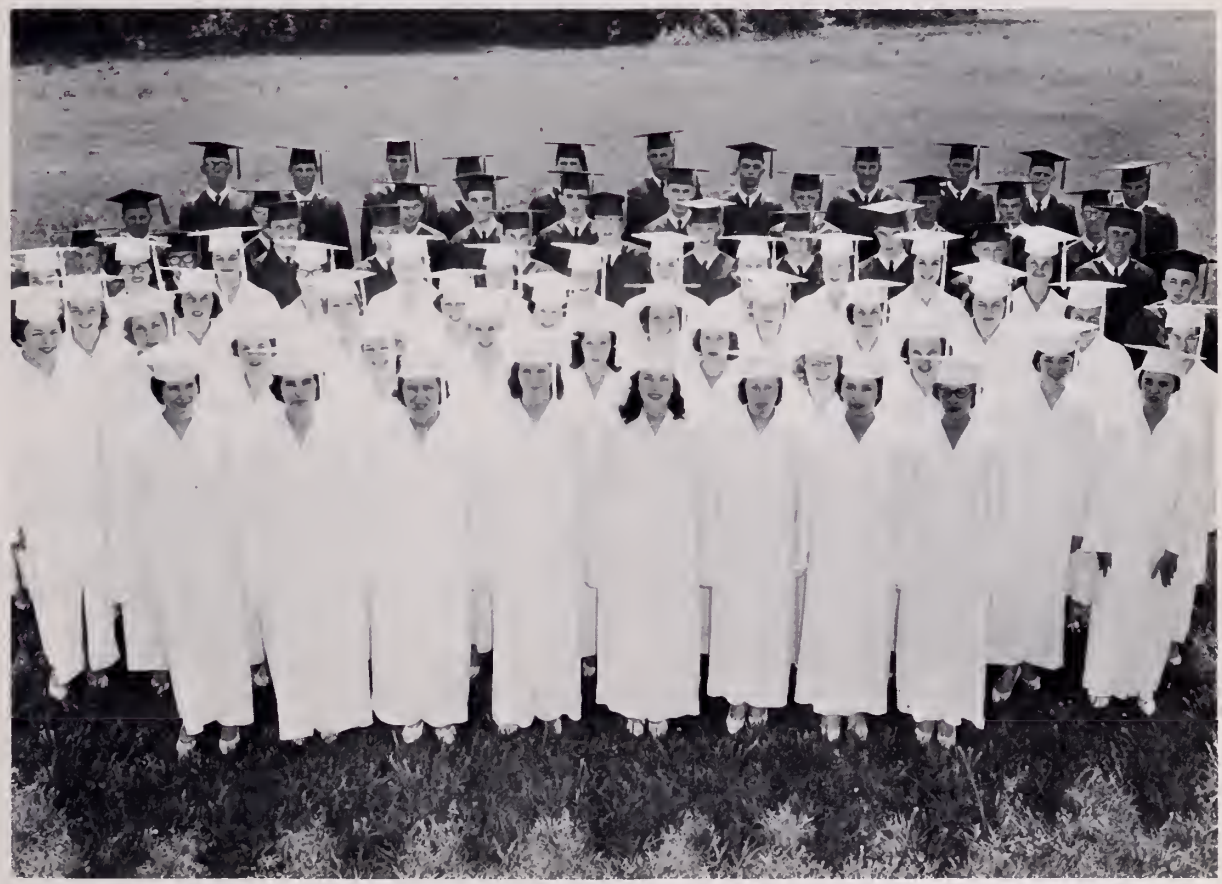

Each year on the last day of school, perfect attendance certificates are awarded to those students who have been neither absent nor tardy for the entire school year. Park View, in competition with the other schools in the county, has won the attendance award for every month of this current school year. Mr. Morgan congratulates the students and their parents for this fine record before he presents over one hundred perfect attendance awards. Senior Emmett receives special recognition for his outstanding achievement of attending school for twelve years without being absent nor tardy a single time.

Drama '62 Is

EXCITINGLY CLIMAXED

Up to this point, all the action, suspense, and gaiety of DRAMA '62 has been contributing to bring about the arrival of the one clinching, climatic scene. In this brilliant climax of not one, but actually twelve years of hard work, the seniors are alone as they command all attention in this their hour upon the stage.

Graduation activities begin after the final round of second semester examinations when the seniors celebrate their newly found freedom with a class picnic at Pine Lake.

Practices for commencement activities give the seniors an opportunity to savor the thrill of tassels tickling their faces and to realize the solemnity of marching uniformly to "Pomp and Circumstance."

The Reverend A. Woodrow Laine delivers the baccalaureate sermon, "Gaining Recognition," to the host of serious seniors on the Sunday night preceding graduation.

"Dial P.V. for Murder," the hilarious theme for class night helps ease the mounting tension and excitement for graduation is tomorrow night!

"You are the most important person in the world," declares Mr. John E. Allen as he addresses the seniors on graduation night. This night of nights brings emotions of accomplishment and exhilaration tinged with sadness as the eighty-two graduating seniors leave one stage of preparation to commence their larger roles as they so desire.

Who Killed Mr. P. V. Senior??

Top ranking students present class night: Larry Perkinson, Kenneth Wright, Frances Walthall, Dian Boddie, Joyce Tudor, Steve Hines, Bobby Crowder, J. S. Cundiff. Miss Rebekah Crouch is writer and director of the skit.

In the eerie darkness of the first scene of the class night production, "Dial P.V. for Murder," the breathless audience watches an unidentified being stealthily slip onto the stage and stab his quietly sleeping victim as the air is pierced by a blood curdling scream.

The next scene reveals that Park View Senior is the deceased. His wife, Frances Walthall, between hysterical sobs, tells the detectives the history of his wonderful life giving the records of his many accomplishments.

While searching for clues, detectives Kenneth Wright, Bobby Crowder, and Dian Boddie find a box of gifts that Mr. Senior has left to his friends. They then distribute them to the eighty-two members of the class. Gifts range from useful rolling pins, erasers, and telephones to glamorous thunderbirds, black books, and tinker toys.

Grieved friends Joyce Tudor and Steve Hines find a book that P.V. had written about his friends. They share the adventures of the Class of '62 with the audience. Since their graduation, members of the class have done just about everything imaginable from bullfighting in Mexico to visiting the moon.

Park View's country cousin, Bluestone, played by J.S.Cundiff, enters the scene to hunt for a will. Upon finding it, he reads aloud the legacies bequeathed by P.V.

Finally, the murderer is tracked down, and the mystery is solved. The assassin is none other than Father Time.

Dian Boddie comforts Mrs. P.V. while Kenneth Wright and Bobby Crowder search for clues and examine the bloody bedclothes.

Joyce Tudor reads P.V.'s book while Steve Hines and Frances Walthall sorrowfully listen.

Mr. Laine Preaches On "Gaining Recognition"

The Reverend A. Woodrow Laine

Reverend A. Woodrow Laine delivers the Baccalaureate Sermon as the commencement exercises actually begin. The service begins when the seniors march in to the strains of "God of Our Fathers." After the invocation, asked by the Reverend Elden H. Luffman, the congregation joins in to sing the hymn "Holy, Holy, Holy," and Mr. Luffman conducts the scripture reading. Miss Rebekah Crouch's Mixed Chorus then presents the preparatory hymn, "Laudamus Te." Following this selection, Mr. Laine preaches the Baccalaureate Sermon.

The sermon, based on the subject, "Gaining Recognition," is perhaps the most enlightening event for the seniors during the year. Reverend Laine explains how vitally important it is for every, not just some, but every one of the seniors to become an asset to the community rather than a liability. This can be accomplished, he said, by gaining recognition as one who is capable of doing those things approved by man and God. He urges the seniors to show themselves servants of Christ by doing those things acceptable to God and sanctioned by man.

Their five years of high school rapidly drawing to a close, the 1962 Seniors line up for the last time. FRONT ROW: Loretta Paynter, Betty Reed, June Rose Overton, Ann Murphy, Ruby Adcock, Ann Edmonds, Jo Ann Dix, Linda Jordan. 2nd ROW: Beverly Tunstall, Carolyn Thompson, Betty Wright, Dot Duffey, Rose Marie Blanton, Gloria Jean Bullock, Betty Panther, Glenda Kidd, Jeannette Reese, Maxine Crutchfield, Gertrude Moseley. 3rd ROW: Judith Hazelwood, Jean Gill, Paula Allgood, Barbara Hite, Betty Boswell, Carolyn Wells, Elaine Piercy, Gladys Ezell, Mary Alice Mills, Nell Robertson, Patricia Matthews. 4th ROW: Janet Hubbard, Faye Hudson, Frances Walthall, Magalene Rockwell, Doris Hall, Joyce Tudor, Beth Hylton, Dian Boddie, Sadie Smiley, Joyce Martin, Betsy Page Taylor, Nancy Cassada, Freddie Kidd. 5th ROW: Billy Thompson, Johnny Flippen, Edward Creedle, Marvin Crutchfield, Tommy Stanley, Emmett Williams, John O. Cook, G. R. Creedle, David Strickler, Bobby Northington, Eddie Lewis. 6th ROW: Earl Cliborne, Wayne Wright, Girvis Farrar, Steve Hines, Kenneth Wright, Larry Perkinson, Neal King, Charles Jones, Roger Upton, Alvin Sirrocco, J. S. Cundiff, Clyde Spraggins, Billy Taylor, Raye Hines, Jimmy Weaver, Wayne Beck, Tommy Reekes, Herbert Lee Mills, Bobby Taylor, Maurice Shelton, Ernest Wray. Not pictured: Carole Holmes, Gertie Reese, Page Taylor, Bobby Crowder, Sterling Montague, Gene Poythress, Joe Whittemore.

Graduation Speakers Explore "Drama Or Life"

John E. Allen, Director of Development for Longwood College delivers the graduation address, "Who Is the Most Important Person in the World". He points out that everyone who dedicates his life to saving time for others can play an important part in the progress of the world.

(At right)
"God does not want us to be carbon copies of someone else," emphasizes Betty Boswell in her Valedictory "Our Hour Upon the Stage".

"All the World's a Stage" is the topic for Beth Hylton's Salutatory address. Beth welcomes the guests and explains the theme "Drama of Life" which is an extension of the yearbook theme.

(At right)
Salutatorian Wayne Wright stresses the subject "Each Man Plays Many Parts." Wayne declares that in order for a man to play his roles effectively, he must first understand himself.

Tonight, one by one, each senior makes his long awaited entrance upon the stage to receive his diploma from Mr. C.H. Morgan, principal. Here, Bobby Crowder, S.C.A. president, receives his diploma in this his hour upon the stage.

Seniors March in . . . Graduates March Out!

On June 8, 1962, eighty-two seniors, led by marshals Joyce Nance and Teddy O'Toole, march down the aisle to the strains of the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance." Reverend Robert Burch, minister of the South Hill Presbyterian Church delivers the invocation which is followed by the salutatory addresses of Beth Hylton and Wayne Wright. Next, the Park View Mixed Chorus renders the selection, "Climb Every Mountain." Mr. A.B. Haga then introduces the commencement speaker, John E. Allen, Director of Development for Longwood College. Following Mr. Allen's address, Jimmy Weaver, senior class president, presents the class gift to Roy P. Gordon, member of the Mecklenburg County School Board. Mr. B. P. Lumpkin presents awards to outstanding seniors afterwhich Betty Boswell gives the Valedictory message.

The Girls Glee Club then sings "America Our Heritage" which is followed by the presentation of diplomas to forty-five girls and thirty-seven boys. After the last diploma is awarded, the graduates triumphantly march out to the "Priests' March."

Drama '62

With the presentation of the final diploma, the curtain begins to close on the concluding act of DRAMA '62. Although this drama will never be reshown or reenacted, the memories of its laughter and heartaches will triumph over time because they are bound into these Leaves of Memory. Yes, the memories of screaming until one is hoarse at a ballgame or pep rally, the sacred hush of that noisy crowd when the Alma Mater is sung, the thrill of dancing in the dim lights of the Peppermint Lounge, the agony of sitting up all night to complete a research theme, and the tears at graduation will remain with the students of Park View long after lives of kings and dates of wars are forgotten.

To the cast of DRAMA '62, the year's production was only a scene in one act of their lives. Regardless of their failures and successes in this production, they will have another opportunity on another stage to channel their destinies in the right direction.

"This play is done, the curtain drops,
Slow falling to the prompter's bell,
A moment yet . . . the actors stop
And look around to say 'Farewell'."

Drama '62 Is

KINDLY SPONSORED

No matter how high the writer's dreams may soar, no matter how astute the director may be, without sound financial backing, any production is doomed.

Under the direction of competent business manager, Beth Hylton, the business staff of DRAMA '62 supplies the energy and initiative needed to raise adequate funds to support our production. Business staff members sell Park View pins, yearbook covers and subscriptions, sponsor the Miss Yearbook Contest and dance, and sell advertisements in their struggle to keep the account out of the "red".

To the cooperative merchants in and around South Hill who bought ads in the annual, we give our deepest thanks. Without their help, the book would have never become a reality. However, we feel that they, too, will benefit from the transaction with our staff. Park View students represent hundreds of families who shop in South Hill and surrounding areas. The teenage members of these families determine many of the purchases made by the adults, as well as forming a growing market themselves. By placing your ads in their hands, you the merchants are creating a lasting impression that will develop buying habits for years to come.

We urge the students to study these ads carefully and willingly patronize these enterprising advertisers when you shop.

Words To Grow By

"IF"
By J. P. McEvoy

If you can hear the whispering about you
And never yield to deal in whispers too;
If you can bravely smile when loved ones doubt you,
And never doubt in turn what loved ones do;
If you can keep a sweet and gentle spirit
In spite of fame or fortune, rank or place,
And though you win your goal or only near it,
Can win with poise or lose with equal grace;
If you can meet with unbelief, believing,
And hallow in your heart, a simple creed,
If you can meet deception, undeceiving,
And learn to look to God for all you need;
If you can be what girls should be to mothers--
Chums in joy and comrades in distress;
And be unto others as you'd have the others
Be unto you--no more, and yet no less;
If you can keep within your heart the power
To say that firm, unconquerable, "no";
If you can brave a present shadowed hour
Rather than yield to build a future woe;
If you can love, yet not let loving master,
But keep yourself within your own self's clasp,
And not let dreaming lead you to disaster
Nor pity's fascination loose your grasp.
If you can lock your heart on confidences,
Nor ever needlessly in turn confide;
If you can put behind you all pretenses
Of mock humility or foolish pride;
If you can keep the simple homely virtue
Of walking right with God--then have no fear
That anything in all the world can hurt you--
And--which is more-- you'll be a WOMAN, Dear.

"IF"
By Rudyard Kipling

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs, and blaming it on you,
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating
And yet don't look too good, or talk too wise:
If you can dream-and not make dreams your master;
If you can think-and not make thoughts your aim,
If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster,
And treat those two impostors just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken,
And stoop and build'em up with worn-out tools:
If you can make one heap of all your winnings;
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your loss
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the Will which says to them "Hold on!"
If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with Kings-nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And--which is more--you'll be a MAN, my son!
